

To provide a personal, hands on approach with genuine care for our customers who have lost their pets

To take responsibility to provide a compassionate, ethical and dignified service for the final arrangements

To collect your pet from your home or the veterinary practice promptly by dedicated and caring staff.

To operate our service so that ethics and standards will not be compromised.

To offer, as far as possible, any support we can to help overcome the trauma of losing your pet

To provide your beloved pets with the same compassion, love and respect you shared with them throughout their lives

To be of comfort to pet owners. We understand, not because it is our job... but because we are pet owners.
